It is estimated that in the month of July the pensions on account of the war with Spain will figure up $1,000,000. This is only a starter. The pension sharks have not begun to get in their work yet.

To-day Mr. McNally dives off a dock in Boston to take a little three-hundred-mile swim to New York harbor, where he expects to land at the Battery in about thirty days, provided he doesn't run up against some impediment in the meantime.

According to the New York Tribune the property exempt from taxation in Greater New York has increased within the past year from $553,000,000 to $572,000,000. There is probably that much more which is not exempt, but dodges taxation.

Tariff protection may have done some things, but it has never built up a fish-hook factory in this country. Nearly all the fish hooks we use come from England, where they are made by hand, children being employed in doing much of the work, such as polishing, filing, &c. We do, however spin our own fish yarns.

In Boston last week there was a debate on the immortality of the soul. About the same time two negro preachers in Athens, Alabama, had a dispute on the same subject. We do not know which side won in Boston, but in Athens the question was decided by one of the preachers carving the other up with a big knife.

THE HEROES IN GRAY.

History of the Soldiers of the Old North State in the Great War.

VOLUME ONE IS COMPLETED.

A Beautiful Tale of the Third Regiment and Some of Wilmington's Immortal Sons—A Noble and Just Work for Posterity.

Wilmingtonians will be glad to know that the first volume of the "Histories of the Several Regiments and Battalions from North Carolina in the Great War of 1861-65" is off the press. A number of editions have been received in this city and will be read with interest, as its pages unfold to posterity the daring deeds of the greatest and noblest soldier of them all—the Confederate. To our people it is of especial interest as it contains a history of the Third Regiment, which contained three companies from New Hanover county and two of the three were from Wilmington. The names of many of the gallant officers of this regiment are immortalized and a just and high tribute paid to the men of the ranks. The history of this regiment is the work of the late Capt. John Cowan and Capt. James I. Metts, of this city.

After a recital of the birth and launching of the regiment and a vivid narrative of its many battles, a "roll of honor" is given of those who gave up their life in the great strife, and in the list can be noted the following Wilmingtonians: Col. Gaston Meares, Lieut. Col. W. M. Parsley, Capt. F. S. VanBokkelin, Capt. David Williams, Capt. E. G. Meares, Capt. E. H. Armstrong, Lieut. Thomas Cowan, Lieut. Wm. Quince, Lieut. Tobias Garrison, Lieut. Henry A. Potter, Lieut. Cicero H. Craig and Sergeant Major Robt. C. McRee.

High tribute is paid to these heroes, and also to the memory of the following who have died since the recapitulation: Lieut. Col. Edw. Savage, Dr. J. F. McRee, Dr. J. C. Walker, Dr. Thos. F. Wood, Capt. R. S. Radcliffe, Capt. Wm. A. Cumming, Capt. R. F. Langdon, Lieut. I. T. Pickett, and Lieut. W. H. Barr.

The writers express deep regret that they were unable to furnish the names of the host of non-commissioned officers and privates who fought for the great cause, and continuing say: "Good soldiers and true men they were, discharging duty under any and all conditions. Their hearts' blood flecked the soil of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, and the fields of battle attest their prowess."

The tribute paid to Capt. VanBokkelen is a beautiful one and as follows:

"He was universally popular and almost idolized by his own men. But twenty-one years of age and full of youthful ardor, intelligent, with acute conception of his duties and an indomitable energy in pursuing the line of conduct which a discriminating judgment dictated to him possibly more than any other officer of the company in which he commanded was due the high morale to which the company attained.

A truly touching tribute is the following:

"Adjutant Theodore C. James has also crossed the "narrow stream of death." Our pen falters when we attempt to pay tribute to his memory—companion of our youth, friend of our manhood. For him to espouse a cause was to make it a part of his very self. Intrepid, no more courageous soldier ever trod the soil of any battle field upon which the Army of Northern Virginia encountered a foe. The impulses of his nature were magnanimous, no grovelling thoughts unbalanced the equity of his judgment. "True to his friends and to principle, he remained as constant as the North star, whose true fixed, and resting quality there is no fellow in the firmament." Leaving his right arm upon a battle field of Virginia and exempt for that cause from further military duty, he disdained any privilege which such disability brought to him, but continued in active service until the last shot had been fired and arms stacked forever."

In closing the historians write the following true and beautiful lines:

"The memories of the martyrs of the lost cause are too precious to be relegated to oblivion through any blotches on the part of those who could prevent it, or whose duty it is to preserve them. A duty owed first to the dead and—to the living."

This history of the Third North Carolina has a valuable addition, ably written by Col. Wm. L. DeRosset, of this city.

Both sketches are prefaced by a fine engraving of a group of officers, each being a Wilmingtonian. They are Col. Gaston Meares, Col. Wm. L. DeRosset, Lieut. Col. R. H. Cowan, Lieut. Col. Wm. M. Parsley, Capt. John F. S. VanBokkelen, Capt. John Cowan, Capt. James I. Metts, Rev. G. W. Patterson, D. D., and Dr. Thomas F. Wood.

As to the volume itself it is No. 1 of three to be issued, and contains the histories of sixteen North Carolina regiments. The next volume will give a history of our gallant Eighteenth. This first volume is an octavo, very appropriately colored gray and has the Confederate and State flags on the front corner and the coat of arms of the Old North State on the rear one. On the front appears the following glorious inscription.

"First at Bethel, Farthest to the Front at Gettysburg and Chickamauga, Last at Appomattox."

The history is ably edited by Judge Walter E. Clark, of the Supreme Court, who was a Lieutenant Colonel in the Seventh Regiment, and is a valuable bureau of information.

LOCAL DOTS.

— For other new advertisements see fourth page.

— The tax lister of Harnett township will be at Delgado Tuesday.

— The steamer Compton will have her usual trip to Southport and sea to-day.

— The Seaboard Air Line brought down lots of week-enders yesterday for the seashore.

— One of Nat Goodwin's big successes, "Nathan Hale," is also among next season's theatrical bankings.

— The base ball returns will be dished out hot from the wires to-morrow afternoon at the Fishblate establishment. Everything commences anew.

— The A. C. L. and Wilmington Iron Works ball teams played at Hilton Park yesterday afternoon. The former was victorious by a score of 8 to 3.

— Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mash and child, of Lynchburg, Va., are among the recent welcome seashore arrivals. They have a cottage at Wrightsville beach.

— The two negro store burglars were tried in the police court yesterday morning and sent up to the higher court. Each accused the other of being the thief.

— Last week 10,000 samples of "Show Down" tobacco, aggregating 224 pounds, were distributed free in the city by that live representative, Mr. Charles Mash.

— The Board of Audit and Finance and the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen will meet to morrow night to consider the license tax ordinance.

— Last week's issue of the New York Clipper, the largest of all theatrical journals, contained a picture and interesting sketch of Dr. Stanley Ward Hart, the hypnotist, who is Summering at Wrightsville.

— The STAR returns thanks for an invitation to the thirteenth annual convention of the State Firemen's Association, which this year is to be held in Charlotte, the 23rd, 24th, 25th and 27th of next month. The invitation cards are very attractive and give the entire programme for the occasion.

ANOTHER ELK SOCIABLE.

Tuesday Night in Honor of District Deputy Tomlinson—Splendid Programme for the Occasion.

The Elks intend Tuesday night to have another big time, in honor of District Deputy Tomlinson, of Winston, who is to pay the lodge an official visit. Quite an elaborate programme has been prepared and odds are heavily in favor of a hot time at the elegant temple.

The feature of the special meeting Tuesday evening, aside from Deputy Tomlinson's visit, will be an initiation, and the star of the occasion will be Mr. Adolph Goodman. The work and the candidate will be done up in fine style by a select degree team.

After the meeting a social session will be held, at which a splendid programme of exercises, prepared by a special committee, will be observed. The speaker of the occasion will very likely be Mayor A. M. Waddell. Past Exalted Ruler H. J. Gerken will also deliver an address, his subject being "Loyalty," and Thos. W. Davis, Esq., will speak on "Hospitality." A number of impromptu speeches will, of course, be made, and there will be music galore.

The clever committee of arrangements is composed of Messrs. W. J. Bellamy, (chairman), Ike Solomon, Benj. Jackson, H. J. Gerken, L. Stein, Thos. W. Davis, Lacy Hunt and Dr. T. B. Carroll.

New Law Firm.

It will be seen in to day's advertisement that Messrs. Iredell Meares and Robert Ruark have formed the law firm of "Meares & Ruark," and will continue the practice of the law in the State and Federal Courts. Their offices are in the Masonic Temple. Mr. Meares is one of the leading lawyers of the bar, and Mr. Ruark, though a younger member of the fraternity, has already made a reputation at the bar of bright promise. Apropos, Mr. Ruark has been accorded the honor of delivering the address of welcome to the North Carolina Bar Association when it convenes next week at Wrightsville.

CHAMPIONS FOR SURE

Even If We Did Lose Yesterday's Hotly Contested Game to Norfolk.

GIANTS CAN'T WIN EVERY TIME

But They Are the Champions and You Can't Rub That Out—Allen Twirled Fine Ball Yesterday—New Series Starts In To-morrow.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

Wilmington, 0; Norfolk, 1.
Richmond, 5; Newport News, 3.

WHERE THEY PLAY TO-MORROW.

Wilmington at Tarboro.
Norfolk at Richmond.
Charlotte at Raleigh.

Richmond	19	38	.333

NORFOLK, Va., June 22.—Norfolk took the last game of the series by shutting the "Down Home" boys out by a score of one to nothing, and not until two hands were down in the ninth was the trick accomplished. Both pitchers were very effective with men on bases. Allen pitched a fine game and though I cannot say which team should have won, Norfolk should have received a shut out for nine innings at least. The features of the game were the work of both pitchers and Sebring's work in the out field. He pulled down three or four that looked good for three bases. McGinnis made a fine catch of a line drive, and Devlin succeeded in capturing a little "Texas Leaguer." After a collision with Crockett, he just jumped over Davy and doubled up Kemmer at second. So the game went until the ninth. In that inning Spratt, the first man up for Norfolk, hit an easy grounder to Clayton, who fielded the ball cleanly, but threw wild to first. Lehman sacrificed him down to second, Morrisey was hit by a pitched ball, and Mullen flew out to Crockett; Smith came up and "Tacks" got two strikes on him and one ball; then he attempted to sneak one over and catch Smith napping, but he made a little one over third and Spratt scored the only run of the game. Cranston caught a pretty game.

We leave for Tarboro to-morrow. The Portsmouth players refuse to go to Charlotte, and there are no definite plans for that town. A rumor is afloat that they will sign a new team for Charlotte and black list all who will not go there. This would not only be unfair to the players, but it is impossible, as they have no money to pay their hotel bills in Portsmouth and have received no salary for a month. They offered to report in Charlotte providing their board bills here be paid. There seems to be some doubt about the forfeited games in Portsmouth. Raleigh cannot claim any game, as she did not appear in uniform on the field. There are certain rules and regulations that go with the forfeiture of a base ball game. Wilmington complied with all these and the games were forfeited by an umpire who went there to officiate in the games. There is not even a chance for an argument on this issue.

Giants Played Well, But One Run Gave Skippers the Game.

— The last game with Norfolk shows that the STAR has made no mistake in its estimate of Allen.

— Again, yesterday, Sebring was better than patent fly paper. He caught a lot of 'em.

— "Jordan is a hard road to travel" for the Turtles. They discharged one Jordan and immediately employed another Jordan.

— The Giants will play the Tar Buckets, at Tarboro, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Hope they will not "catch a Tartar."

— It seems from the STAR'S Norfolk special that matters are not yet definitely settled between Charlotte and the Portsmouth team.

— One man should not hold the dual position of President of the league and Manager of the teams composing the league.

— The orful ornithological oracle of the Raleigh Post of yesterday says: "There has been no Portsmouth team this week." Why, Sonny! Haven't you a vague suspicion that a game was played between Portsmouth and Wilmington last Tuesday with a score of 5 to 4 in favor of Wilmington?

— The loss of the game at Norfolk yesterday makes no never mind. The Giants have won the championship in the first series.

— With but one run in the game, and that one made in the close of the ninth inning, the game at Norfolk was hot enough for anybody.

Richmond raised Kain at Newport News. He went in the box for his team and while he did not kill Abel, He was Able to kill Ashenback who pitched for the Shipbuilders.

— Norfolk Landmark: "Wilmington made her other runs one at the time by good, hard plunking the ball. Stewart, of the visitors, pitched a steady game and was entitled to the victory, while not a semblance of a misplay was made by the husky aggregation from North Carolina."

— Raleigh Post: The new league will cause general rejoicing among the fans in Raleigh, for it promises a successful season. Charlotte and Tarboro are good base ball towns, and they have teams that are equal to the best in the league. There is every reason to believe that the change will result in a financial gain to all the clubs.

— The efforts of our esteemed contemps. at Raleigh to count the Giants out by not giving them, in the per centage column, the games forfeited by Portsmouth, are enough to make a horse editor laugh. Why, even without those two games, Wilmington has won the championship.

— Richmond Times: "As was anticipated, the league managers, at a meeting in Norfolk yesterday, decided upon a wise thing in transferring the Portsmouth team to Charlotte and the Newport News team to Tarboro. This action strengthens the league. A new schedule will be made and the changes will be effective on Monday. Richmond and Norfolk are all right, and with the four North Carolina towns with good teams and enthusiastic fans, the season from now on should prove profitable."

BEQUEST TURNED OVER

To the Catharine Kennedy Home Yesterday by Executors of the Walker Will.

The coffers of the Catherine Kennedy Home through another act of benevolence of the late James Walker, whom our citizens will always remember with love, have received $5,000. This amount was paid to the executive committee of the home yesterday at noon as a bequest from Mr. Walker. It was turned over to the committee by Messrs. James Sprunt and William Gilchrist, executors of the will. The money was deposited in bank and will be invested for the best interest of the home. This investment is necessary as the terms of the bequest will not permit the capital to be used, only the interest.

The gift of $5,000 was a noble one and it goes to help a most worthy institution. Our citizens should take an active interest in its maintenance.

The executive committee is composed of the officers of the home; Mrs. Roger Moore president, Mrs. P. Pearsall vice president, Miss Louise Harlowe secretary, and Mrs. W. R. French treasurer.

SOUTHERN ROAD SUED.

Damage Suit Instituted at Burgaw Yesterday by Lawyers of This City for Widow of M. D. Thompson.

R. G. Grady, Esq., returned yesterday afternoon from Burgaw, where he went to institute suit for damages in the Pender county Superior Court against the Southern Railway Company. The plaintiff in the suit is Mrs. Della D. Thompson, of Burgaw, whose husband, M. D. Thompson, was killed by a train on the Southern road last December near Columbia, S. C. Her counsel are all of this city, R. G. Grady, Esq., and Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy.

In the complaint the plaintiff alleges that her husband was killed in the day time on a trestle of the defendant road and that his death was wholly due to the carelessness and negligence of the railway company. She claims $20,000 damages.

Mr. Grady last week visited Columbia and investigated the tragedy.

Big Fourth at Carolina Beach.

The Fourth of July, as has been before stated, will be gloriously celebrated at Carolina Beach this year. The Red Men of the city, under whose auspices the celebration will take place, are still working hard and expect to score a splendid artistic triumph.

There will be no more delightful place to spend the Fourth than at Carolina Beach, for aside from the many seashore pleasures that this popular resort affords, the Red Men have prepared an enjoyable programme of entertainments for the occasion, and last but not least is the delightful ride on the commodious steamer Wilmington.

The schedule for the running of the boats will be announced this week.

The Atlantic Coast Line will sell round trip tickets to all points on its lines for one and one third first class fare, to be sold on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th; final limit July 8th inclusive. †

You can get your groceries at cost at Kerchner & Harriss'. †

THE BAR ASSOCIATION

Of North Carolina to Meet at Wrightsville Beach This Week.

STATE'S DISTINGUISHED SONS

Will be Present at the Convention—Splendid Programme of Entertainment Arranged—Our Legal Friends Are Already Arriving.

The North Carolina Bar Association will hold its third annual meeting at Wrightsville Beach Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The programme for the session as set out in a circular letter signed by Clement Manly, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and J. Crawford Biggs, Esq., Secretary of the Association, shows an interesting order of exercises:

Wednesday, June 26.—9:00 P. M.—Call to order by Chairman of Executive Committee, Clement Manly, Esq. Annual Address of the President of the Association, Hon. Chas. M. Stedman. Appointment of Committees. Notice of Amendments to Constitution or By-Laws. Introduction of Resolutions. New Business.

Thursday, June 27th—10:00 A. M.—Annual Address by Hon. Chas. M. Blackford, of Lynchburg, Va. Reports of Secretary and Treasurer. Reports of Standing Committees. Reports of Special Committees. Discussion. General Business. 9:00 P. M.—"Traditions and Recollections of the Bench and Bar of North Carolina," by Hamilton C. Jones, Esq. Discussion. General Business.

Friday, June 27th—10:00 A. M.—"The Law of Negligence," by Judge George H. Brown. Discussion General Business. Report of Committee to recommend officers. Election of Officers and Members of Executive Committee.

Robert Ruark, Esq., of the local bar, will deliver the address of welcome.

On Saturday, June the 29th, the association will be the guests of the Wilmington Bar and a tripdown the Cape Fear and out to sea has been planned for that day.

Rates at $1.50 per day have been given by the Seashore Hotel to members of the association and their families. A large crowd is expected.

Our citizens in general will do all in their power to make the stay of our distinguished legal visitors a memorable one. Every courtesy possible will be shown them. The Elks will extend to the association the comfort and pleasure afforded by their handsome house.

AT WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH.

The Gay Doings at This Popular Seashore Resort

Rain! Rain! Rain! A drizzling rain and threatening clouds kept many from the Beach last night. The ocean front for a time was an abyss of blackness, whilst the din of the surf and the pelting spray proved a test too severe for unstrung nerves or the sticking qualities of a borrowed complexion. At 9 o'clock, however, not a cloud was visible.

At the Seashore Hotel, notwithstanding the threatening weather earlier in the evening, quite a crowd gathered last night to dance to the music of the Hollybush Orchestra. The occasion was the regular Saturday evening dance at the hotel. Among those dancing were noted a number of Wilmingtonians and cottagers in addition to the guests of the hotel.

The Powers cottage on the beach has been recently opened and is now occupied. Miss Mabel Powers arrived from Atlanta during the early part of the week. The families of Messrs. Sol and Sam Bear have also moved into their cottages during the present week.

The Seashore Hotel register showed the following arrivals for yesterday: A. J. Crampton, Charlotte; E. L. Hart, Norfolk, Va; H. G. Stern, New York; B. Hersch, Baltimore; O. P. Perkins, St. Louis; A. E. Moore, Greensboro; Geo. W. Marsh, Cincinnati, J. P. Leggett, Baltimore; I. Meizmer, New York; A. W. Belden and wife, Birmingham, Ala.; A. J. Leitch, Charlotte; F. H. Bailey, Miss Rosa Bailey, Winston; T. Reid Chum, Ky.; J. K. Morrisey, Clinton; B. Cousins, Norfolk, Va.; C. M. Davidson, Charlotte; Mrs. A. Leitch, A. M. Spong and wife, Charlotte; W. A. Sheppard, Richmond, Va.; W. W. Marston, Philadelphia; C. E. Moore, Greensboro; Fred Merritt; New York; J. O. Hodgson, Philadelphia; G. H. Hall and wife, Red Springs; R. I. Katz, New York; C. C. Eberts, Washington, D. C.; R. H. Hubbard, Winston, F. B. Johnson, Clinton; D. W. Roper, Edenton; Howard Fisher, Baltimore; J. C. Mayfield, Philadelphia.

Free Show at Hilton Park.

Every night this week Butts' Panorama, in conjunction with Edison's Kinetescope, will be exhibited at Hilton Park free; that is, free to all who patronize the Street Railway. The entertainment will be given under a large canvas and will be of sufficient merit to "pack" the tent each and every night. The street car line will, as usual, have ample accommodations for "all comers."

Now Ready for Business.

The Ocean View Company announce that their hotel at Wrightsville Beach is now completed and ready for the accommodation of guests. In connection with the hostelry will be a fine cafe. A splendid hundred-room bath house, properly appointed, is also near by. A real seashore time is promised their guests.

Wilmington Crooks At Work.

It is reported that two Wilmington crooks, negro men, have been getting in some of their work at Rose Hill, on the Atlantic Coast Line about fifty miles from this city. At that place Thursday night the general merchandise store of Mr. Henry Fussell was broken into and robbed of a number of suits of clothes, shoes, etc.

The thieves were tracked and arrested near Burgaw. There were two of them and they were caught with the plunder in their possession. One of the negroes had five complete suits of clothes on and the other was wearing three. Both had a bag filled with shoes.

Carolina Beach Excursion Wednesday.

Brooklyn Baptist Church Sunday School will give its annual excursion to Carolina Beach next Wednesday and the outlook promises to be every bit the equal of its several highly successful predecessors. The committee of arrangements have prepared an enjoyable programme of entertainment for the occasion.

There will be two boats to the beach, one at 9:15 o'clock in the morning and the other at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon. The fare for the round trip will be 25 cents.

Glorious Celebration at Southport.

The citizens of Southport are certainly making big preparation, for a celebration of the Fourth in their live town. They have mapped out a splendid and patriotic programme for the observance, which will, no doubt, be as much enjoyed by a large number of visitors from this city as the Southport people themselves. Boat racing, a grand display of fireworks, etc., are all on the tapis.

One of the chief features will be a historical address by E. H. Cranmer, Esq.

Supreme Court meets in August.

The Supreme Court, it is announced, will commence its fall session this year on the first Monday in August instead of September, as heretofore, but applicants for license will be examined (for this year only) on the first Monday in September. This change has been made by the court, because of the greater number of judicial districts created by the Legislature, and so as to complete the call of the districts at the Fall term before the Christmas holiday.

Encampment May be Postponed.

It may be necessary, though it has not been decided definitely, to postpone the encampment for a week or ten days owing to the lack of time to make preparations. This point will probably be settled to morrow or next day.

The encampment committee was out again yesterday soliciting subscriptions and did fairly well, but they will have to make the rounds again to-morrow.

City Subscribers.

City subscribers are earnestly requested to report promptly at the STAR office every failure of the carriers to deliver their papers. In all such cases steps will be taken to insure prompt and regular delivery.

The Atlantic Coast Line will run a special train to Lake Waccamaw July 4th, leaving Wilmington at 8 A. M. Fare for the round trip 75 cents. Returning, the train will leave Lake Waccamaw at 8 00 P. M. †

The Morning Star.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 23.

THEY CAN'T SMOTHER IT.

An effort will be made to smother tariff discussion when Congress meets, but it can't be done, for the agitation for lower duties where it has been demonstrated that our manufacturers can compete with foreign manufacturers has already gone too far to be suppressed by the party managers.

Mr. McKinley and others who seek to work the protection programme, while pretending to be working in the interest of American trade, may play their game but it will not work, it will not placate the Republicans who stand behind Mr. Babcock and encourage him in his proposed fight against the Trusts, which are doing a competitive business abroad and a monopolistic business at home.

Senator Allison, who deprecates tariff agitation and does not believe that the tariff is as responsible for the Trusts as Mr. Babcock supposes, says he can very well understand why there should be a popular sentiment against the Trusts which sell goods in foreign markets lower than they do in the home market. But how does Senator Allison propose to meet that question and placate that sentiment? He can't do it with the reciprocity dodge, for that will not, in the language of the late Mr. Blaine, "make a market for another bushel of American wheat or another barrel of American pork," and it will not build up those great home markets with which the protection advocates have been humbugging Republican voters. They have sampled that kind of stuff and can't see any particular reason why markets for American wheat and American pork should be cut off to keep up protective duties for the benefit of manufacturers who can afford to ship their goods to countries with whose manufacturers they compete, while they charge American purchasers from twenty-five to fifty per cent. more for the same articles. It will take some persuasive argument to convince them that such a policy is either necessary, fair or honest.

The protectionists are trying to brow-beat and bluff Mr. Babcock by threatening to oust him from the chairmanship of the committee on Ways and Means, if he doesn't hold up in his anti-Trust war, and they are beginning to threaten Speaker Henderson with opposition for re-election if he doesn't turn the cold shoulder to Babcock.

They have had meetings of Protection clubs in which resolutions were adopted deprecating tariff agitation and have appointed committees to go to Washington when Congress meets to present these resolutions and back them up with oral eloquence, flowing champagne, etc, while some of them have supplemented these proceedings with declarations that if Congress goes to revising the tariff, not another dollar will be put into such manufactures as they are engaged in, an old method of scaring Congressmen and deterring them from doing their duty.

It is apparent from all this that they do not regard the tariff revision talk as lightly as Hon. Mark Hanna did some time ago when he said that Mr. Babcock's contention was not "worthy of serious consideration." Mr. Babcock believes it is; a good many Republican Congressmen agree with him, and thousands of Republican voters, especially in the West, who have been voting right along for the protective policy believe it is, and these protected manufacturers who are so anxious to prevent tariff agitation believe it is, and there are with all these about 6,500,000 Democratic voters who believe it is.

Mr. Babcock says he does not propose to be browbeaten or bluffed into silence or inaction, but that he intends to move right along on the lines he has drawn and to "carry the war into Africa." He may, considering the encouragement he is getting from Republican voters and from leading Republican papers in the West, have the nerve to tackle the tariff as the breeder of the Trusts, but if he shouldn't, if they should succeeded in gagging him or holding him back until they have worked off their reciprocity fake, can they silence the Democrats in Congress who are waiting for Mr. Babcock to make his move? If he does not move promptly surely some leading Democrat will spring that question, and then how will they manage the gagging business? If they refuse to hear him, they will put themselves in a position of refusing to discuss that question, and the onus will be thrown upon the Republican party and it will be held responsible for the refusal to grant the people the relief they demand from the extortions of the Trusts, which such refusal will prove more powerful in that party than the demands of the people.

When this was a straight party issue it was a different matter, but it has ceased to be that now, for Mr. Babcock and thousands of other Republicans who have been supporting protection, stand practically upon the Democratic platform which distinguishes between an honest tariff and a tariff that fosters monopoly, extortion, imposition, fraud and corruption. They can't smother this discussion with the reciprocity dodge or any other dodge. The agitation within the Republican ranks has been going on too long and protected manufacturers themselves have furnished too many strong arguments for tariff reduction.

WHAT THE SOUTH HAS DONE.

In all that is written about the industrial progress of this country, but little mention is made by the Northern papers, as a rule, about the part the South plays in this progress. We get a good deal of gratuitous advice about how to manage our business, how to entice Northern capital to help us out, and all that sort of rot, as if Northern capital didn't jump at a good thing when it sees it, and where it can have everything its own way. Occasionally, however, some Northern paper does write up some interesting information, and a few of them do that frequently. In referring to the Southern Industrial Convention recently held in Philadelphia the New York World crammed a good deal of solid stuff into the following:

"The South includes one-fourth of the total area and one-third of the population of the United States Its cotton and cotton seed alone gave it an income last year of $545,000,000—the largest value of any single crop in the world. Its corn and its lumber product brought it the snug sum of $300,000,000. Moreover, the South raises 80 per cent. of all the American tobacco, mines 20 per cent. of all its coal, produces 18 per cent. of its iron, has 30 per cent. of its total railroad mileage and a steadily increasing percentage of its manufacturing. The growth of its cotton mills has been simply wonderful. New England's old supremacy in this great industry is gone, never probably to return.

This does not embrace the oil discovered in Texas and other Southern States, which is destined to add millions to the income of the South, and to give impetus to manufacturing industries, which will add millions more. In this connection it must be remembered that what the Southern people have achieved on these lines has been mainly the result of their own efforts, and has been accomplished without Trusts, and combines, and tariff-favoritism to which the North is so much indebted for the wealth accumulated by that section.

But the time is passing when the South will be content with producing the crude material to enrich others, for the day will come when she will manufacture most of her cotton and wool, and instead of shipping iron in pig and plain castings, she will convert it into finished forms, such as locomotives, engines, machinery of various descriptions, and other things which she now buys from the North. It will take time to do all this, of course, but it will come in time as surely as her five hundred or more textile mills have come.

BIG YIELDS PER ACRE.

In commenting upon the big yields of Georgia land, as stated by Col. Hemphill, of Atlanta, in his speech at the Southern Industrial Convention at Philadelphia, and the reference of THE STAR to big yields in North Carolina, the Raleigh Post says:

"Before the war Mr. Nicholas W. Woodfin, of Buncombe, won a prize offered by the State Fair Association for the largest yield of corn per acre, which was 126 bushels and three pecks. It was produced on Mr. Woodfin's river bottom farm about three miles north of Asheville. We have frequently heard that Hyde county lands yielded from 100 to 125 bushels to the acre.

"Hon. Allen T. Davidson, of Asheville, is our authority for the statement that on Valley river, Cherokee county, he raised one year 1,100 bushels of Irish potatoes to the acre. On the spot now occupied by the Battery Park Bank at Asheville, the late Capt. Hugh Johnston told us he raised 800 bushels of this potato to the acre.

"From 350 to 400 bushels of the sweet variety is as much as we remember to have heard of in this State, but no doubt Judge Fred Philips, or Judge Howard, of Edgecombe, in which county these potatoes grow to perfection, or Mr. Geo. N. Ives, of Newbern, can give us something more encouraging in this particular.

"Our late friend, Mr. Henry Pearce, of Franklin county, succeeded in producing a crop of two and a half bales of cotton to the acres, fifty one bales from twenty acres, if our memory serves us, while the late Judge Furman, of Georgia, passed the three-bales-to-the acre crop and was working for the five, insisting that he would succeed, at the time of his death."

If 1,100 bushels of Irish potatoes can be produced on one acre of land, judging from the size of some of the sweet potatoes we have seen an acre ought to produce about 4,000 bushels.

In Chicago the other day a judge ordered a sick child to be taken from its parents, Christian Scientists, and sent to a hospital for treatment, holding that while the parents who were old enough to be responsible and to know what they were doing, might refuse to employ a physician in case of sickness they had no right to refuse their child medical aid.

A new bean has been discovered in Africa which supplies everything a person needs but raiment. It is said a man could live and grow fat on two pounds a day. Bostonese should catch on to that bean. They have been sort of partial to African products anyway.

JUSTICE

Is portrayed as a woman, yet her sex might complain that they get scant benefit of her powers. There is little justice, it would seem, in the suffering that many women undergo month after month.

Justice acts upon the legal maxim that ignorance of the law cannot be pleaded in mitigation of punishment. It is ignorance which causes so much womanly suffering. Ignorance of the requirements of womanly health; ignorance on the part of those who attempt to cure and fail, and ignorance of the fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"When I first wrote to Doctor Pierce concerning my health," says Mrs. Mollie E. Carpenter, of Linaria, Cumberland Co., Tenn., "I was so weak I could only write a few words until I would have to rest; was so weak I could hardly walk. Words cannot express my sufferings; dimness of sight, palpitation, shortness of breath, black spots or else shining lights before my eyes, terrible headache, numbness in my arms and hands and tongue, also my jaws would get numb; constipation, falling of the uterus, disagreeable drains, soreness through my bowels; in fact I was diseased from head to foot. Now I can do my own washing and cooking. I can take a ten quart pail in one hand and a six quart pail in the other (full of water), and carry both one-fourth of a mile and never stop to rest. I am as heavy as I was at 19 years (125 pounds). I used thirty bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and twenty-five vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.'"

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It provides that the name and description of every dog shall be filed with the county treasurer and that the owner must pay a license. "Failure means death to the dog, and thousands are being slaughtered. One good feature of the law is that if a dog kills sheep the owner of the sheep can kill the dog and get damages from its owner."—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—— The wool growers of the United States, who notwithstanding prohibitive tariff duties on wool, find the prices of their fleeces going lower and lower, will presently begin to understand that the manufacturers are gradually going out of the business of making pure woolens. Every year the use of adulterants increases, and by so much the demand for wool decreases. The art of sophistication has been so perfected that it requires no little technical skill to tell the difference between "all wool" and "part wool" fabrics.—Philadelphia Record, Dem

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Alamance Gleaner: Wheat harvest this week—the crop is very good in some sections, but some of it is very ordinary.

Richmond Headlight: The protracted heavy rains have greatly damaged the crops, and from present appearances farmers can't hope to realize more than half crops.

— Raleigh News and Observer: At Cook's saw mill, on the Yadkin river, Thursday night, Arthur Ferguson, negro, killed John McGhinnis, white, with an axe. No particulars have yet been received. The negro made his escape. Crowds are out in pursuit of him.

— Statesville Mascot: Wheat harvest is now in full blast, and the general opinion is that the wheat crop will be a fair one, if it can be safely harvested. The rains of the past week and this week have interfered with the farmers very much, but it is hoped that the sunshine will help them out for some days.

—Newbern News: News has reached here to the effect that Goston L. Wetherington who lives near Vanceboro, Pamlico county, shot his wife last Monday or Tuesday night. He was drunk and they had some words, which resulted in the shooting. The ball passed through her hand and into her stomach. Dr. Nobles of Vanceboro, is attending the case, and it is said that her condition is quite critical and that she will likely die.

— Greenville Reflector: The trial of E. B. McLawhorn for assault upon C. M. Bernard was held before Justice of the Peace L. A. Mayo Wednesday afternoon in the Court House. Mr. McLawhorn plead guilty of assault, and after hearing the evidence in the case the Justice fined the defendent $25 and cost but later reduced the fine to $20 and cost. Mr. Bernard was not present at the trial. The citizens of the town made up a purse to pay Mr. McLawhorn's cost.

— Fayettville Observer: The arrest in this city Thursday night of Rev. W. Montgomery Jackson, pastor of St. Joseph's Episcopal church, colored, has created a sensation. He was arrested at the rectory of his church about 8 o'clock by Deputy United States Marshal H. B. Averitt, on a warrant charging him with selling whiskey, and was at once taken before United States Commissioner Morrisey, who required a two hundred dollar justified bond for his appearance at trial on Saturday morning.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

So many housewives suffer from nervous depression due to catarrhal weakness peculiar to their sex, and suffer on year after year, not knowing what their ailment is. Mrs. Mary Cook, of Pittsford, N. Y., suffered for six years before she learned of Peruna. Mrs. Cook recently wrote the following letter to Dr. Hartman:

"I was not well for six years, paid many doctor bills, but never improved very much. I gave up hopes of ever recovering.

"Finally, I wrote to Dr. Hartman, and I am thankful to say that I am now well, through his good advice and medicine. I am gaining in flesh and feel young again. I was very emaciated, but now my own children are surprised in the great change in me when they visit me."

Miss Annie Zlott, 72 Livingston street, Newark, N. J., took Peruna for extreme nervousness. She says: "I was very ill and thought I would die. I had a terrible headache and my head swam; I thought I would never get well; I seemed to have a great complication of diseases and bought medicines, but they did me no good.

"Finally I gave up and thought I would wait for my end. One day I happened to pick up one of your books. I read of other women who were near death and had been cured by Peruna, so I thought I would try it.

"I took a couple of bottles and began to feel better. I continued its use until now I am a well woman. I praise Peruna highly and wish other women would use it."

Mrs. Anna Roes, 2813 North Fifth street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"Four weeks ago I believed I had consumption; I took a severe cold, and although for the first few days the mucus in my throat and chest was loose, it finally became so bad that I had difficulty in breathing.

Pain in the shoulders followed. As I had placed my confidence in you and Peruna, I followed your directions strictly, and improved from day to day, and am now well again."

Most women feel the need of a tonic to counteract the debilitating effects of summer weather. Peruna is such a remedy. It cures all catarrhal conditions whether it be weakness, nervous depression or summer catarrh. For a free book on summer catarrh, address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

WANTED A RECEIPT.

The Old Lady Insisted Upon Following Instructions.

The old lady was not used to traveling on the Broadway cars. She had evidently spent her youth and middle age in the rural regions, but doubtless she called old Ireland home. The conductor, who differed little from the rest of his kind, came through the car calling for fares. The old woman held out her hand, in which a nickel was tightly clutched, then drew it suddenly back as if she had made some mistake.

"I want my 'resate' first," she said in a rich Doolian dialect.

The conductor paid no heed; but, holding out his hand, demanded, "Fare, please."

"But I want my 'resate,'" she repeated.

"No receipts, lady," said the stolid conductor. "I'll have to have your fare."

"My son told me not to give up any money without getting a 'resate,'" insisted the old woman stoutly.

The kind lady with the sweet face and Paris clothes proffered the assurance that it was "all right," that nobody got receipts.

"See, I pay my fare without one," she said, giving the conductor a dime and the woman a reassuring smile.

But the woman was stubborn. "I want my 'resate,'" she reiterated.

The conductor mechanically held out a nickel to the kind lady of the Paris gown, but she shook her head, nodded toward the old woman and smiled. The conductor without a word passed on through the car, which lurched and swayed through Union square. She of the "resate" shook her head grimly, settled herself back in her seat and held on to the nickel, determined not to relinquish it without the necessary acknowledgment.—New York Mail and Express.

BEAUTIES OF A GLACIER.

Scenes That Are Likened to Visions of a Glorified City.

The fascinations of a glacier are as witching as they are dangerous. Apostolic vision of a crystal city glorified by light "that never was on land or sea" was not more beautiful than these vast ice rivers, whose onward course is chronicled, not by years and centuries, but by geological ages, says a British Columbia correspondent of the New York Post. With white domed snow cornices wreathed fantastic as arabesque and with the glassy walls of emerald grotto reflecting a million sparkling jewels, one might be in some cavernous dream world or among the tottering grandeur of an ancient city. The ice pillars and silvered pinnacles, which scientists call seracs, stand like the sculptured marble of temples crumbling to ruin. Glittering pendants hang from the rim of bluish chasm. Tints too brilliant for artists' brush gleam from the turquoise of crystal walls. Rivers that flow through valleys of ice and lakes, hemmed in by hills of ice, shine with an azure depth that is very infinity's self.

In the morning, when all thaw has been stopped by the night's cold, there is deathly silence over the glacial fields, even the mountain cataracts fall noiselessly from the precipice to ledge in tenuous, wind blown threads. But with the rising of the sun the whole glacial world bursts to life in noisy tumult. Surface rivulets brawl over the ice with a glee that is vocal and almost human. The gurgle of rivers flowing through subterranean tunnels becomes a roar, as of a rushing, angry sea. Ice grip no longer holds back rock scree loosened by the night's frost, and there is the reverberating thunder of the falling avalanche.

In China criminals and political prisoners are beheaded. Some of the executioners are so expert that they can arrange and behead a man in 18 seconds.

No military parade or drill except in case of war, riot, invasion or insurrection is lawful on election day in New York.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The cotton market opened quiet with prices unchanged to two points higher, this being about in keeping with the English market news. Shorts had hoped for a lower opening to the bearish trend of the Chronicle's crop weather review of the week South. Light Wall street and active Southern demand for near months strengthened the market decidedly soon after the call. This buying alarmed pit shorts, who hastened to cover over sales in the new crop positions. Prices were very sensitive to this demand and not until August had reached 7.35, October 7.46 and January 7.47 was there sufficient cotton for sale to appease the needs of the bears. All the forenoon New Orleans was a large and consistent buyer. Trade was unusually active for a Saturday half-holiday. There was nothing in the weather reports to indicate relief from drought and extremely high temperature over the Southwest for some days to come. The weekly reports from Fall River and Manchester were unquestionably the most favorable received in many weeks, showing active demand for cloths and nervousness among spinners concerning replenishment of spot supplies. The market for futures closed very steady, with prices net eight to ten points higher or about the top notch of the day on covering and Southern buying.

I GAVE MY HEART TO A WOMAN.

I gave my heart to a woman;
I gave it her, branch and root.
She bruised, she wrung, she tortured;
She cast it under foot.

Under her feet she cast it,
She trampled it where it fell,
She broke it all to pieces,
And each was a clot of hell.

There in the rain and the sunshine
They lay and smoldered long,
And each, when again she viewed them,
Had turned to a living song.

—William Ernest Henley.

AN INCIDENT OF PRAIRIE LIFE.

Sarah Preston's lips were tightly compressed, and there was a sad look in her eyes. The dust was blotting out from her view more than the flower dotted landscape. It seemed to dim all remembrance of the long days of perfect weather when the prairie seemed an Eden and strength and hope grew large with the fresh, bracing air.

Some one came in with a heavy, weary step and stopped a moment on the threshold to look at the drooping figure. Then he approached her with awkward tenderness, laying his toil roughened hand on her shoulder.

"What's the matter, Sarah?" he said softly.

There was a smothered weariness in the tones, but her ears seemed deaf that morning to anything but the wind's piercing voice. Half unconsciously she drew a little away from his hand.

"It's everything," she said, "everything! Why did we ever come here, to such wretchedness as this?"

He did not attempt another caress, except with his anxious eyes, and her face was turned away from them, hidden in her hands.

She would have called after him and clung to him if she could have seen the look on his face as he went out—all the patience and weariness of it.

In just a few minutes he was back at her side.

"Sarah," he said rather anxiously, "what would you say to letting two people come in for a little rest? They've stopped the wagon just a little way from here. She seems a childish young thing, and he looks as if the world had been too much for him, he's so thin and sickly looking. What do you say to bringing them in?"

"Oh, John, how can we, when it's so hard to keep up as it is? But go ask them in. If we can make it a little easier for them, we ought to, I suppose."

"You come with me," coaxed John. "Go get your hat, and we'll ask them together."

She gave a slight protesting laugh, but went nevertheless, clinging to his arm and almost resting her face sometimes on his shoulder.

They were very near the travelers now. The tired horses, with dejected down bent heads, were snatching what little rest they could. In the covered wagon sat the man and woman—such a hollow cheeked, large eyed man and such a little slip of a wife! The hot wind flapped the canvas cover and sent swirls of dust over the two occupants and their scanty possessions.

Some of the self pity that had darkened Sarah's face all the morning faded out of it and was replaced by a purer, nobler look.

"You must be tired out," Sarah began without preamble. "We want you to come up to the house for a little rest and to have dinner with us. Won't you?"

A pleased smile breaking over the young wife's face seemed almost to fade out the little worried line between the dark eyes. An answering gleam stole over the worn face at her side, but they both protested faintly. They couldn't give so much trouble. It would not be right.

"You come right along!" said John, with kindly authority. "We want you, so don't make any fuss about it. We'll take the horses into my barn. Let 'em try my feed and a good bucket of my well water."

The two men went off together, Sarah and the little wife beating their way back to the sod house. A look of cheer and comfort seemed to be in its brown walls now. "How good it will seem to rest in a house!" said the little wife, with a happy sigh.

"Wouldn't you like to lie down a little while till dinner is ready?" said Sarah. "Come right into my room, and just feel that you are at home." A protecting kindliness had sprung up in her heart for this little creature with the appealing eyes. "You must be so hot and uncomfortable! There's cold water in that pitcher, and I'll bring you some warm. No, it isn't a bit of trouble. Then you must rest until dinner."

Unpleasant thoughts were far away as Sarah prepared the simple dinner, trying to make it as attractive as possible. She would get out some of her wedding china. Why not? John would enjoy a bright spot in the day for the strangers. She even picked a bunch of astralagus, making a centerpiece of the white, furry leaves. A sprig of wild geranium was laid at each plate.

There were cheery faces around the table, and Sarah's was not less bright than the faces of the others.

The gaunt stranger sat a little more erect now, and his face after even this brief rest seemed less sharply outlined. The warm, human kindness as well as the outward comfort had wrought the change and in some way made it easier to remember in whose larger protecting care they were and would still be when rolling over the brown prairie. Bit by bit their story came out. The man told how he had been a carpenter and builder in Iowa, what a happy little home it had been, and why they were flying now to the untried world of Colorado, that Mecca for consumptives. The gaunt man and the young wife avoided the dread word. They said instead, "People with any sort of lung trouble."

As they went back to the sitting room John and Sarah talked cheerily of the prospective home in Colorado and brought out a book of views of the wonderful scenery. The gaunt man and his little wife bent over them with keen interest. "It will be a great move for us," he said. "It seemed to be the only thing for us to do, and I'm glad we're so near there. I feel more heartened up today than any time since we started. We won't forget your kindness, I can tell you."

"Oh, pshaw!" said John, and "Don't speak of it," said Sarah in a breath, "It's been so pleasant for us to have you!"

It was necessary to take up the journey again. The two men went out to the barn together.

The eyes of the little wife sought Sarah's. "You have been so good," she said, almost in a whisper, "so good to take us in. This awful dust and the heat—I wouldn't have minded them so much for myself, but it has been so bad for him. It makes the cough worse, and that always frightens me. All these days that we have been on the way I have been longing so to reach Colorado. I have felt as if I couldn't wait, when the waiting must mean everything to him, and it has been so hard, so almost impossible, to keep cheerful before him! That is always very hard—don't you think so—when your life is all wrapped up in somebody else's, to keep that one from feeling how you suffer? And of course, if they knew, that would make it all so much worse."

How the poor young thing was emptying her heart out! It was as if all the grief and anxiety of the days in the covered wagon, rolling over the brown plains, had burst their bounds and must pour themselves out to this listener.

"I wanted you to know," the excited little voice ran on, "how kind you have been—what a comfort it has been to me! Don't you see how much less tired he looks? And he hasn't coughed near so much; not near! You have cheered us up too. It has been so strange—all this journey—every day taking us farther away from home, and the trying to choke down the homesickness—and"— She broke off short, with gratitude and tears shining in her eyes.

There was just time for Sarah to take the little brown hand in hers and press it close when the two men came back.

The man with stooping shoulders and the flush on either cheek went up close to the little woman with bright, eager eyes.

"Well, little woman, are you most ready?" he said, patting her shoulder. "You've had a fine rest, haven't you?" He coughed sharply as he spoke, but she smiled up at him brightly that he might not know how much more it racked her chest than his.

"You'd better get on your bonnet, little woman," he said; "it's time we were going. I don't know how we're to thank you and your wife, Mr. Gilbert, for all you've done for us, but we feel it, sir; we feel it."

"It wasn't anything at all," John protested. "It has done us good to have you here."

Sarah and the little young wife went into the tiny bedroom together. The wind had stopped its maddening song outside, and the air was clear again from its burden of dust. The furniture would have to be dusted for the third time that day, but the thought brought no scowl to her forehead now. The little traveler pinned on the rusty black hat and turned to hold out both hands impulsively to Sarah. "Thank you again," she said, and then, in a whisper: "Colorado is a wonderful place, isn't it? Haven't you heard about the way people get cured there—people just as bad off as George or worse? You feel sure it'll do him good, don't you?"

She searched Sarah's face as if to read her fate there. It was hard to meet the girlish eyes.

"I've never been farther west than this myself," she said, "but every one says it's a wonderful climate in Colorado for people with trouble with their lungs. I'm so glad you're going there, and when he's grown well and strong you'll be coming back this way to see us?"

The delight of that possible future was in the young wife's eyes. "If he only does!" she said. "If he only does!"

There were hearty hand clasps exchanged a few minutes later. Then the prairie schooner, with its freight of human love and anxieties, rolled slowly away. The two left behind in the little sod house stood at the window till the wagon was seen, a dark blot, above the sharp horizon. With a quick, impulsive movement, Sarah's hand stole into her husband's.

"How good you are!" she said, almost solemnly. "And while I have you what do I care about other things?"

Far off in the big wagon a little woman sat with her round cheek pressed against a shabby coat sleeve, and the cry of her heart was like that of Sarah. "What are other things," she was whispering, "while I have you, dear?"—Facts.

Literary America.

Statistics of the relative populations of the British isles and the United States give color to the prophecy of Brander Matthews that sooner or later the literary center of the English language is to be transferred from England to this country. If such a transfer is almost unprecedented in literary history, the scholar can find a close parallel in the case of Alexandria, which became the capital of Greek culture. In an article in The Bookman Professor Matthews says: "When the bulk of contemporary English literature is produced by American authors and when the British themselves have accepted the situation and resigned themselves at last to the departure of the literary supremacy of London, then the weight of American precedent will be overwhelming. Without knowing it, British readers of American books will be led to conform to American usage, and American terms will not seem outlandish to them, as these words and phrases do even now, when comparatively few American authors are read in Great Britain. And these American innovations will be very few, for the conservative instinct is in some ways stronger in the United States than it is in Great Britain, due perhaps partly to the more widespread popular education here, which gives to every child a certain solidarity with the past."

A Night Of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me, when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lug Diseases. Only 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles 10c. at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the weary nerve tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 23.

CENSUS BULLETINS ISSUED.

Giving Population by Six General Nativity and Color by Groups of States and Territories.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Census Bureau to-day gave out the first of a series of eleven bulletins giving the population by sex, general nativity and color by groups of States and territories. The group announced to-day comprises Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado and Connecticut. In all these the males constitute the larger percentage of the total population.

In Colorado and Connecticut 98 per cent of the population is white; in California almost 95 per cent., the rest being mostly Chinese. In Arizona the colored, who are principally Indians, constitute not quite one fourth of the total population, while the colored element in Arkansas, being almost wholly persons of negro descent, constitutes 28 per cent. of the population. In Alabama the colored population is 45 per cent. and is practically made up of persons of negro descent. The white population of Alabama and Arkansas is composed principally of native white persons of native parentage, and this element in 1900 constitutes 68.4 per cent. of the total population of Arkansas and 52.3 per cent. of that of Alabama.

DISMISSED THE CASE.

Preliminary Trial of Miss Fannie Kilgore for Causing the Death of Mrs. Hatfield at Tampa.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TAMPA, FLA., June 22.—Judge Robles dismissed the case against Miss Fannie Kilgore late this afternoon. This was on the preliminary trial for causing the death of Mrs. Hatfield. The case occupied another entire day in the county court. The crowd was larger and the interest greater than ever.

Miss Kilgore was on the stand. She denied that she had ever kicked or struck Mrs. Hatfield. Miss Kilgore said that on the afternoon of the alleged trouble she came home and Mrs. Hatfield accused her of writing a note to her husband. She admitted that she had written a note to Joe Hatfield, another member of the family. She said Mrs. Hatfield refused to accept this and abused her. Mrs. Hatfield attempted to strike her and she caught the woman by the hands and held them while she backed out of the room and through the hallway to the door. She denied having used the language which the eye-witnesses attributed to her.

Dr. W. P. Lawrence was placed on the stand. He was the physician who attended Mrs. Hatfield in confinement. He believed that death resulted from natural causes.

NASHVILLE STREET RAILWAY.

Receivers Appointed Pending a Sale Under Foreclosure.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 22.—A receiver was appointed to-day for the Nashville Street Railway, capitalized at $13,000,000. Application was made in the United States District Court by the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Company, which, as holder of $2,000,000 of the company's bonds, alleged that interest payment was defaulted last February. The complainants prayed for foreclosure and on their petition Judge Clarke appointed E. F. C. Lewis and Percy Warner receivers, pending a sale by foreclosure. Joint bond of $30,000 was given by the receivers who at once assumed control of the property. The company is capitalized at $13,000,000, half in bonds and half in stock.

STORM IN VIRGINIA.

Great Damage to Crops—Slides and Washouts—Three Children Drowned.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., June 22.—A special to the Times from Tazewell, Va., says the worst storm in its history struck that county this evening, doing great damage to crops. No trains are running on the Clinch Valley division on account of slides and washouts. Stores and houses on Clinch river are flooded. Three children of Paris Dyke were drowned in the west end of the county.

A special from Bristol says the temporary bridge over the Watauga river on the Southern railway, erected to take the place of the iron bridge, was washed out of place by an eight-foot rise in the river this evening. All the trains on that division have been annulled. The river is still rising, and it may be Wednesday before the bridge can be replaced.

CHURCH DYNAMITED.

The Pastor, Recently Elected Mayor, Waged War On "Joints."

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MANHATTAN, KAS., June 22.—An attempt was made early to-day to wreck the First Methodist church with dynamite. A number of stained glass windows were destroyed, a large hole was torn in the door, near which the explosive had been placed, and the steps were badly shattered. The parsonage, adjoining, was not damaged.

Rev. J. M. Miller, pastor of the church, was recently elected mayor and has waged a bitter war on the keepers of "joints." Recently six of them were fined $200 and given sixty days in jail. No arrests have been made in connection with the explosion.

It is announced that W. C. Whitney has purchased Nasturtium, two year old colt, from A. L. Aste. The reported price is $50,000.

MINERS' STRIKE IN WEST VIRGINIA.

The Whole Field in a State of Excitement and Serious Trouble Feared.

CONFLICTS HAVE OCCURRED.

Two of the Miners Shot by Some of the Guards — The Latter Dispersed by the Miners — Superintendent Lambert Injured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., June 22.—The miners' strike in the Thacker-Matowan coal fields is growing critical and resort to firearms has been the result. The whole field is in a state of excitement and serious trouble is feared. Already two or three conflicts have occurred between the striking miners and the guards, which have been placed on the works by the operators.

The trouble has grown out of non-recognition of the Union by the operators. The operators declare they will not recognize the Union and the miners are equally as persistent in demanding that they shall be recognized. The trouble did not assume a critical stage until within the last few days, when, it is alleged, two of the miners were shot by the guards of the operators who were armed with rifles. Then it was that the situation became critical and the men began to arm themselves.

What at first seemed only to be a small strike is now threatened to assume great proportions. Up to last evening four or five hundred miners had gone out on strike and it is now said that the whole field is on strike, with the guards to some extent demoralized. Sheriff Hatfield, with deputies, has gone to the scene of action to quiet the trouble as far as possible.

Judge Jackson yesterday issued an injunction restraining the miners. What effect the United States court will have on the strike is not known. The miners have all the money necessary and have opened commissary stores on the ground and are taking care of all men who will not work.

Last evening, late, some of the miners were fired upon by the guards. The fire was returned by the miners, dispersing the guards and slightly wounding Superintendent Lambert in the leg. The miners claim they want no trouble and that they already have the situation in hand.

The lines have been drawn closely and any moment may bring forward a new development with serious result. The entire community is in a state of anxiety, and business has virtually ceased.

TERRIFIC STORM AT PITTSBURG AND VICINITY

Three Lives Lost — Great Damage to Property—Estimated at $200,000 in the Two Cities.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PITTSBURG, June 22.—Pittsburg and vicinity were visited to day by one of the fiercest storms known since the United States Weather Bureau has been established. Within forty eight minutes 1.19 inches of rain fell and during that time the lightning and thunder was almost continuous. The wind accompanying the storm was not high except in a contracted path a few hundred feet wide, which swept like a tornado, from McKee's Rocks, through Allegheny, a portion of the east end of Pittsburg, on to Wilmerding and Turtle Creek. Three lives were lost during the storm, but up to midnight only one victim's name has been learned. He was Charles Marcus, an Italian, who was working in a sewer at Centre and Euclid avenues. When the rain came the sewer was a raging torrent in a moment and Marcus was torn away from his fellow workmen and probably carried through the river.

Great damage was done in the two cities and in the suburbs east, but nothing like accurate figures can be given to night. Conservative estimates place the loss at $200,000. The tornado, when it reached Allegheny, struck the grandstand of the Ball park and carried bodily 150 feet of that structure and moved from its foundation the entire stand. Great beams with portions of the roof of the stand were carried from 100 to 300 feet to the park, lodging on the roofs of houses on Robinson street. In one instance two of the beams ploughed through the roof of a house on Robinson street, going from the garret to the first floor, carrying away a portion of the bed in which James Williamson was asleep.

RESCUED FROM LYNCHERS.

Termination of the Trouble at Trinity, Texas—Negro Carried to Houston by Soldiers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 22.—Reenforcements rushed to Trinity, Texas, by special train, raised the siege of the Light Guard, who had under arrest Levi Spencer, a negro charged with assault. A detachment of the guard had been sent to Trinity yesterday to bring Spencer here. They had started with him to the railway station when a mob of Trinity citizens formed a cordon and surrounded the detachment, whom they vastly outnumbered.

Soon as news of the soldiers' plight reached here the balance of the guard was hurried to the scene. They arrived this morning, drove back the mob and escorted their comrades and Spencer to the station.

As the special train pulled out for Houston, the mob fired. Many of the cars were riddled with bullets, but none of the soldiers was hit. The guard replied to the fire.

Spencer has been taken to the penitentiary at Huntsville, for safe-keeping.

TRINITY, June 22.—Everything is quiet here to night. None of the citizens was struck by the soldiers who fired from the train as it left this morning. Very little talk about last night's trouble over the negro Levy Spencer is indulged in.

The situation with regard to the strike of the machinists at the Southern shops in Memphis is about as it was shortly after the men went out. Superintendent Hutchens says that his road has all the men needed for the present.

Dr. Franklin H. Kerfoot, corresponding secretary of the Baptist Home Mission Board, died last night at Atlanta, of acute rheumatism and euremic poisoning. Dr. Kerfoot had been ill for several months.

EARL RUSSELL IN COURT ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

Held Under Bond of Two Thousand Pounds Must be Tried As a Peer in the House of Commons.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 22. Earl Russell reappeared in the Bow street police court to-day on the charge of bigamy and was committed for trial. The court was crowded. Among those present was the woman (Mrs. Somerville, whom the Earl claims is his wife, and to whom he was married in Reno, Nev., in 1900, after he had obtained a divorce from his first wife. The register of his first marriage was produced.

Mr. Brown, assistant director of public prosecutions, then testified that the present proceedings were taken by the public prosecutor, independently of any other person, thus confirming the first countess' statement, that she is not a party to the suit. Mr. Brown gave details of his investigation at Reno, and B. F. Curler, county clerk of Washoe county, Nevada, testified to marrying Earl Russell and Miss Somerville at the Riverside Hotel, Reno. The defendant called himself Mr. Russell and the witness was not aware of his rank.

After detailing the Nevada law on divorce, Mr. Curler said that in Earl Russell's divorce the law was not complied with in two respects and, therefore, the decree annulling the Earl's marriage was not valid, even in Nevada.

After counsel had protested that Earl Russell had not been given adequate time to prepare his defence, the Earl was committed for trial at the next session of the Central Criminal Court, the same bail (£2,000) being allowed.

It appears that the Earl must be tried as a peer in the House of Lords. The usual course is that, after the committal, application is made to remove the case to the House of Lords by a writ of certiorari. Such trials have been very rare. The last one was the case of Lord Cardigan. There have been four trials in the House of Lords since the end of the reign of George II.

THE TARIFF CONTROVERSY.

Representations Made to the Russian Government by the State Department at Washington.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The State Department has addressed to the Russian government, as represented by Count Cassini, its ambassador, such representations respecting the sugar and petroleum tariff controversy as deemed necessary to meet the Russian action. The purpose of the letter is to smooth away if possible the friction that has been engendered between the two governments in the handling of those two subjects and in particular to divest the exchanges of any personal character. To that end, as set out in Secretary Gage's statement issued yesterday, the effort is made to show that what has been done by the United States government was in a manner brought about by the automatic operation of the American tariff laws. The facts set out by the Treasury statement, as to the provisions of the countervailing duty section of the Dingley law are recited, together with the circulars and instructions of the Treasury Department issued thereunder. As the Russian government has been especially irritated over the proceeding as to Russian sugar imports into the United States, particular attention is given to that subject and reasons are adduced to bring the Russian government to believe it should remit the increased duties on American goods.

The Russian ambassador received Secretary Hay's note during the afternoon, and took steps to communicate it to the imperial government. This closes the incident for the present, and it probably will be some weeks or may be months before any further development occurs. In the meantime, Count Cassini will in person go over the entire subject with the officials at St. Petersburg, and this gives hopes of a satisfactory adjustment, as the ambassador has lost no opportunity during his last three years in Washington to harmonize differences and bring about every possible measure of cooperation between the two countries. He leaves Washington Monday afternoon and will sail from New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse Tuesday. Count Cassini is quite confident that no ill effect can come out of the incident and his efforts will be directed toward removing this and like small irritations.

THE AMERICAN DERBY.

Won by the Gelding Robert Waddell. Thirty Thousand People Present.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Thirty thousand people saw "Virginia" (Bradley's Alahoa gelding, "Robert Waddell," at 12 to 1 in the betting, win the fourteenth American Derby at Washington Park to day by one length in 2:33 4-5, record time for the race. Few in the cheering throng had backed the comparatively friendless animal to capture the rich stake, yet never since the day that the grand filly modestly took the first American Derby has the tumultuous cheering—the genuine ovation given to horse and rider—been equalled in this State. Jockey Bullman, to whom fell the honor of taking two derbies in succession, was swept into a human maelstrom. Upon the shoulders of strong men this popular rider was carried and a detail of blue coats had to be called to clear the admiring throngs from the course.

Immediately the Derby had been run, extravagant stories were circulated in the crowd about the fortune "Virginia" Bradley had won on the victory of his gelding. Turfmen rushed to the paddock and overwhelmed the tall Virginian with congratulations. Enthusiasts who escaped the vigilance of the officers at the gate sought to destroy the owner's old hat, tear off his coat and play similar pranks on the quaintest character on the Western turf. But "Pa" Bradley was not to be stampeded. He declared that he just knowed he would win with Waddell and that he had played a few fifty dollar bills in the Winter book when the gelding was held at 100 to 1. The turfmen jumped to the conclusion that he had won at least $75,000, and renewed their enthusiasm until the fortunate owner of the Derby winner nearly fainted. Waddell won $19,000 for his owner and Bradley paid $2,000 of it to Jockey Bullman.

The statement of the associated banks for the week ended yesterday shows: Loans, $902,755,300; increase $1,811,400. Deposits, $982,844,200 decrease, $1,350,100. Circulation, $30,887,500; decrease, $16,900. Legal tenders, $79,925,500; increase $1,348,200. Specie, $173,296,900; decrease $3,856,500. Reserve, $252,322,400; decrease $2,508,300.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL TREATY.

The British Cabinet Once More Has Begun to Consider the Problem.

CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

British Foreign Office Will Vigorously Maintain Its Potentiality Until Such Time as Both Signatories Shall Agree to Its Abrogation.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 22.—In a tentative, easy-going sort of way the cabinet has begun to consider the Nicaragua treaty matter. Lord Pauncefote has explained many things to Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary, and the latter is once more grappling the problem. It is needless to say that the Foreign Office has no intention of hurrying, and in the course of a month or so it may come to a decision. This will take the form of instructions to Lord Pauncefote, who will return to the United States. These instructions will probably not be officially communicated to the State Department until Congress shall convene or the attitude of the Senate in the matter shall be definitely known.

Lord Pauncefote will probably be permitted to interpret his instructions pretty broadly, and the show signs of being elastic enough to provide for any contingency, except a direct refusal on the part of the Senate to recognize the validity of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. Lord Lansdowne is as persistent as ever on this point. He rigorously maintains the potentiality of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty until such time as both signatories shall have agreed to its abrogation.

A high official, in the course of conversation with a representative of the Associated Press, said:

"Americans seem to think we are trying to delay the construction of the canal; but this is entirely wrong. We are just as anxious as they are to see it completed, and are willing to do almost anything to further that end; but we do not want to see a treaty we made in good faith torn up like a piece of waste paper, and we still consider that we are entitled to some quid pro quo for the relinquishment of our treaty rights."

A recent special cable dispatch announcing that the Nicaragua matter had been practically settled and that Lord Pauncefote, in consequence, would not return to the United States, caused much amusement. It is utterly unfounded. On the highest authority the Associated Press is able to state that Lord Pauncefote will remain ambassador to the United States for the rest of his days or as long as he cares to retain the position.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Distinguished Personages Guests of the Officials—Wm J Bryan Among the Number.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 22.—There were a number of distinguished personages at the Pan American Exposition to-day, as guests of the Exposition officials. Among them were William J. Bryan, of Nebraska; Sir Claude MacDonald, British minister to China; Hon. Edwin Conger, United States minister to China, and Minister Wu Ting Fang.

Mr. Bryan is the guest of Norman E. Mack. With him are Mrs. Bryan and his three children. The Bryan party under escort of Mr. Mack spent the afternoon and evening at the Exposition grounds.

"The Exposition—it is something every American citizen should see," said Mr. Bryan. "It is educative. Its beauty is superb, its purpose is splendid. I believe in increasing our trade with South America and in strengthening our relations. This Exposition will help to do it. So beyond its beautiful form it has a noble purpose and it will succeed, as it deserves."

Mr. Bryan will leave for Watertown to morrow, visiting Niagara Falls en route. At Watertown he begins a tour of speech-making which include Philadelphia and Norfolk, Va.

ENGAGEMENT IN CAPE COLONY.

British Lost Fourteen Killed and Wounded and Sixty-six Captured.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CRADDOCK, CAPE COLONY, June 22.—In an engagement at Waterkfoof, June 20th, the British lost eight men killed and two mortally wounded and had four men seriously wounded. In addition, sixty six men of the Cape (colonial) Mounted Rifles were captured. The captain of a Boer squadron is reported to have been wounded and one Boer was killed.

THE MAD MULLAH.

His Forces Attacked and Routed by the British—Many Slain.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ADEN, June 22.—The Mad Mullah, after the recent repulse by Captain MacNeill of his attack upon the British zaraba, accidentally encountered the main British force of cavalry and mounted infantry which immediately attacked and routed him. The pursuit was continued throughout the night. A hundred of the enemy were killed and the Mullah and the Sultan of Nur narrowly escaped capture. The British force lost seven killed and wounded.
